The Vermont Environmental Consortium (VEC) is excited to present our Spring 2021 Virtual Conference. Similar to our past several conferences, this will be a collaborative effort between the VEC and Vermont Department of Environmental Conservation (VT DEC), and we have invited other members of state government, private sector consultants and service providers, and Regional Planning and Development Corporation members to present.

Unlike the last several conferences that focused on Water Quality, we are instead focusing on Brownfields Redevelopment during Day 1 of the conference. In addition to providing a VT DEC Brownfield Program overview update about new Brownfield funding sources, we will highlight several case studies from across the State.

On Day 2 of the conference, we will cover PCB contamination, with a case study on the Burlington High School. The conference will provide useful information, as well as continuing education credits, to members of the Vermont consulting community, local developers, lenders, attorneys, and government officials.

This event will draw roughly 150 attendees including consultants, regulators, developers, attorneys, support service firms (drilling contractors, labs, other vendors), and planners.
